What is

Building Materials?

Building Materials is an industry sector that makes, sells and distributes all the products and materials needed for all the UK's building and construction projects.

Building Materials Employers include builders merchants, timber merchants, plumbing and heating merchants, other specialist merchants, plus Building Materials product manufacturers, distributors and all the service providers that support the sector.

Critical to construction, it's a vast and varied place to build a career because every item needs to be designed, developed, produced, financed, checked, stocked, loaded, shipped, imported, distributed, managed, marketed, sold, tracked, delivered, supported, accounted for, advised about and more.
